Just in the Nick of Time: Serving a Warm Thanksgiving Meal to Glendale Homeless

On Sunday November 22, 2015 over thirty staff members and volunteers of The Nick of Time Project joined forces to prepare and serve a hearty home cooked Thanksgiving meal for Glendale's winter homeless shelter population. Each generous plate consisted of oven roasted turkey breast, mashed potatoes and gravy, creamed corn, apple cranberry cornbread stuffing, organic cranberry sauce, and, of course, pumpkin pie for dessert. (cont'd on p.2)

“We have an amazing core of multi-generational volunteers and we are thankful that they have opened their hearts to us as well as to the community at large,” said George Shaginian, Executive Director of The Nick of Time Project. “Without their generosity we could not have delivered such a successful outcome.”

Added Tina Voskanian, Board Vice President and Co-founder, “our name says it all, we aim to serve needy elders just in the ‘Nick of Time.’ Homeless elders are particularly vulnerable during this time of year and it is our priority to deliver as much comfort as we can, one elder at a time.”

The Nick of Time Project was founded for the sole purpose of providing a critical safety net for under-resourced elders so that they do not fall through the cracks of society. As a non-profit charitable organization, Nick of Time devotes all dollars raised from generous private donors as well as grants to fund its core programs including an emergency grant, anti-hunger, and anti-social isolation programs.

“As the aging population continues to rise more elders are being left behind and not enough resources are available to address their growing needs, which is why we are unique in that our sole mission is to serve this forgotten segment of society,” stated Jina Nam, Board President and Co-founder.

One such homeless elder participant was astounded by Sunday’s Thanksgiving spread. “After not having a proper meal in days, I am truly touched that there are such caring people who blessed us with such an amazing meal with love.”

The volunteers were equally impressed. “It was rewarding for me...to take in the scene with all the planning, cooking, and organizing that (made this holiday event) so successful, thanks to (everyone at Nick of Time),” exclaimed Tony Hein, a social worker who volunteered for the event. “I was thankful for the opportunity to be part of the process!”

Nick of Time Project to Distribute Holiday Care Packages to Local Under-Resourced Elders

The Nick of Time Project will be distributing holiday care packages containing essentials as well as seasonal treats to over 100 needy elders in the Greater Los Angeles area.

“We volunteers wanted to do something special for the elderly within the community, so what better way to spread holiday cheer than to deliver a personalized care package filled with not only everyday goods that they may need, but also filled with a holiday gift that was on their wish list,” stated Andy A., who has been tirelessly volunteering with Nick of Time Project since its inception.

On behalf of our entire family to yours we wish you all a safe and wonderful Holiday Season and a Happy New Year!

See you in 2016!
